JENNIFER MCALLISTER

FRONT-END DEVELOPER STUDENT

Front-end Developer student at Medieinstitutet currently studying HTML, CSS, Scss, Javascript, React, Vue, Jest, Cypress, API development, UX, Interface desgin and agile working methods. I believe my strengths are quick-learned, methodic, innovative and I always love a new challenge.

EXPERIENCE

Before starting my journey to become a Front-end Developer I worked as baker and pastry chef here in Sweden and in Germany.

My experience also involve working in cafés and my current part-time job as stagehands for concerts which I've been doing since October 2021. Other than that, I also finished Web development 1 at Komvux the same year and spent some spare time learning C# as well.

Which brings us to today. Now I am currently studying Web Development at Medieinstitutet since September 2022 where I will be graduating in June of 2024.
